

Please find a link below to the Northern Ireland Sustainable Energy Programme (NISEP) for 2023/24, which has been published in the last few weeks.

Each year NISEP has a range of energy efficiency schemes which provide financial support for domestic and business customers. There are specific conditions to each scheme with most offering a % financial contribution and some offering fully funded support (generally targeted towards lower income households). Different organisations manage each scheme with contact details provided.

Please feel free to share this information with households and businesses you may engage with, and you may be interested in considering this support for your own home. From experience, a number of the schemes could be fully subscribed in 2023 so if you're thinking of energy efficiency improvements for next winter then it may be a good idea to consider this sooner and get in touch with the managing organisations.

If you have any questions on wider support schemes then the Northern Ireland Housing Executive manages the NI Energy Advice Line – contact details can be found at The Housing Executive - Community \(nihe.gov.uk\)
